- Always feed koi from the same place so that fish start to recognize who you are and that you are about to feed them
- Make sure not to make sudden movements when hand feeding, as this may frighten koi

- When hand feeding, slowly place half of the food into the pond to get the fish used to coming to the surface to feed, this will also get the fish used to the smell and taste of their new treat
- Remember, whenever offering a new food, fish need a chance to recognize new shapes and smells as something to eat. Be patient and before you know it your fish will come rushing towards you to receive their delicious Aquascape Koi Krunchies treat
